"With summer coming and more time to read ... it's great to know that I can share the books I am done with and get new ones for the cost of postage... I have tried other sites such as this one, but found in only a few days, that this will be my favorite :)"

"The "wish list" system is genius. I am gradually getting all the books on my list and they have been in as good or better condition than the online used book market. We home educate with a literature-based curriculum and the swap has already saved us a substantial amount of money in costs for books for our next year's schooling. Additionally, the swap is simple to use and not nearly as time consuming as buying and selling at online auctions or used book sites. A wonderful find!"
